

FOR SENIOR LIVING

Independent Living in a Caring Community

Welcome Home.

A caring community for independent older adults

At the Gladys and Henry Crown Center for Senior Living, the residents and the staff share a commitment to independent living and an active lifestyle. People who live at the Crown Center receive the support they need to maintain their privacy and dignity.

This was the intent of the National Council of Jewish Women who founded the Delcrest in 1964 as a non-profit affordable housing resource for older adults. Today the Crown Center continues to respond to the changing needs of our senior population, while fostering a caring community committed to life enrichment and mutual respect.

My friends are here.

It's easy to become part of the community at the Crown Center. You'll find you have something in common with the active, independent people you'll meet. The residents represent diverse backgrounds, cultures and experiences. The Crown Center also attracts people from the surrounding area to many of its programs.

I love my apartment.

The residences are affordable. The Crown Center offers various rental options including subsidized housing. (Income requirements will apply.) Our lifestyle offers independence as well as caring neighbors, a professional, friendly staff and a vibrant neighborhood.

I don't worry about maintenance.

Utilities are included in the rent. Each apartment is air-conditioned. The Crown Center employs an on-site maintenance crew to address ongoing repairs as well as emergencies.

The staff is wonderful.

The people who work at the Crown Center are committed to the independence of its residents. They provide the support, friendship and services that enhance the quality of life in the Crown community.

I feel so safe.

Security and safety are top priorities at the Crown Center. Every apartment has a medical alert system, and is equipped with fire alarms.

My financial situation may change, and the Center will accommodate me.

Residents may find themselves in changing financial circumstances. The staff at the Crown Center will do their best to provide housing opportunities for residents experiencing financial challenges.

There are services I never even thought of.

A podiatrist comes to the center for monthly visits. There's a beauty salon in the complex. There are support groups for people with special needs, such as the Low Vision Group that meets monthly for lunch.

There's so much do.

Take a trip to a museum, or a musical show. Join a walking group at the Galleria. Swim at the JCC, play Bingo, or attend a group discussion on aging. Do you need a language class? Want to learn more about e-mail? Need a little exercise? All of those programs and more are available at the Crown Center. The award-winning activities staff coordinates programs that stimulate the mind, stretch the body and warm the soul.

There's help if I need it.

Medical help regularly visits the center to provide free health screenings. Social workers are available to help with life transitions, and to serve as a resource for additional services when needed.

Need a ride?

The Center's van provides safe transportation to program activities, grocery stores, pharmacies, banks and shopping malls.

Meals are a great way to see people.

The Mid East Area Agency on Aging operates a kosher nutrition program at the Crown Center. Dinners are available Monday - Thursday, and lunch is served on Friday. We also offer many special holiday meals.

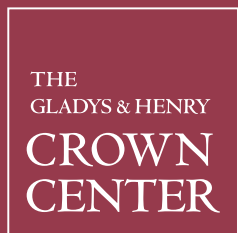

University City is a great place to live.

Our neighborhood has character. It is home to unique businesses, cultural activities, a variety of community services with a sense of pride. The Crown Center has become a core of neighborhood activity, integrating our residents into the life of the community.

We're waiting to welcome you!
